Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, statements about future financial and operating results, our plans, objectives, expectations and intentions with respect to future operations, products and services; and other statements identified by words such as “will likely result,” “are expected to,” “will continue,” “is anticipated,” “estimated,” “believe,” “intend,” “plan,” “projection,” “outlook” or words of similar meaning. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding AdTheorent’s industry and market sizes, future opportunities for MCAP, AdTheorent and the combined company, MCAP’s and AdTheorent’s estimated future results and the Business Combination, including the implied enterprise value, the expected transaction and ownership structure and the likelihood and ability of the parties to successfully consummate the Business Combination. Such forward-looking statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of our management and are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are difficult to predict and generally beyond our control. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from the results anticipated in these forward-looking statements.

In addition to factors previously disclosed in MCAP’s reports filed with the SEC and those identified elsewhere in this communication, the following factors, among others, could cause actual results and the timing of events to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements: MCAP’s ability to consummate the Business Combination; the expected benefits of the Business Combination; the post-combination company’s financial and business performance following the Business Combination, including AdTheorent’s financial projections and business metrics; changes in AdTheorent’s strategy, future operations, financial position, estimated revenue and losses, forecasts, projected costs, prospects and plans; demand for AdTheorent’s platform and services and the drivers of that demand; AdTheorent’s estimated total addressable market and other industry projections, and AdTheorent’s projected market share; competition in AdTheorent’s industry, the advantages of AdTheorent’s platform and services over competing platform and services existing in the market, and competitive factors including with respect to technological capabilities, cost and scalability; AdTheorent’s ability to scale in a cost-effective manner and maintain and expand its existing customer relationships; AdTheorent’s expectation that it will incur increased expenses as a public company; the impact of health epidemics, including the COVID-19 pandemic, on AdTheorent’s business and industry and the actions AdTheorent may take in response thereto; AdTheorent’s expectations regarding its ability to obtain and maintain intellectual property protection and not infringe on the rights of others; expectations regarding the time during which MCAP will be an emerging growth company under the JOBS Act; AdTheorent’s future capital requirements and sources and uses of cash; AdTheorent’s business, expansion plans and opportunities; anticipated financial performance and the expectation that the post-combination company’s future results of operations will fluctuate on a quarterly basis for the foreseeable future; the expected U.S. federal income tax impact of the Business Combination; the outcome of any known and unknown litigation and regulatory proceedings; the risk that the Business Combination may not be completed in a timely manner or at all, which may adversely affect the price of the MCAP’s securities; the risk that the Business Combination may not be completed by MCAP’s business combination deadline and the potential failure to obtain an extension of the business combination deadline if sought by MCAP; the failure to satisfy the conditions to the consummation of the Business Combination, including the adoption of the Business Combination Agreement by the stockholders of MCAP, the satisfaction of the minimum cash amount following redemptions by MCAP’s public stockholders and the receipt of certain governmental and regulatory approvals; the lack of a third-party valuation in determining whether to pursue the Business Combination; the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstance that could give rise to the termination of the Business Combination Agreement; the effect of the announcement or pendency of the Business Combination on AdTheorent’s business relationships, performance, and business generally; risks that the Business Combination disrupts AdTheorent’s current plans and potential difficulties in AdTheorent’s employee retention as a result of the Business Combination; the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against AdTheorent or against MCAP related to the Business Combination Agreement or the Business Combination; the ability to maintain the listing of MCAP’s securities on Nasdaq or any other exchange; the price of MCAP’s securities may be volatile due to a variety of factors, including changes in the industries in which AdTheorent operates, variations in performance across competitors, changes in laws and regulations affecting AdTheorent’s business and changes in the combined capital structure; the ability to implement business plans, forecasts, and other expectations after the completion of the Business Combination, and identify and realize additional opportunities; the risk of downturns and the possibility of rapid change in the highly competitive industry in which AdTheorent operates; the risk that AdTheorent will need to raise additional capital to execute its business plan, which may not be available on acceptable terms or at all; the risk that the post-combination company experiences difficulties in managing its growth and expanding operations; the risk of private litigation or regulatory lawsuits or proceedings relating to AdTheorent’s platform and services; the risk that AdTheorent is unable to secure or protect its intellectual property; the risk that the post-combination company’s securities will not be approved for listing on Nasdaq or any other exchange, or if approved, maintain the listing; and other risks and uncertainties indicated in the proxy statement/prospectus, including those set forth under the section entitled “Risk Factors.”

Actual results, performance or achievements may differ materially, and potentially adversely, from any projections and forward-looking statements and the assumptions on which those forward-looking statements are based. There can be no assurance that the data contained herein is reflective of future performance to any degree. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements as a predictor of future performance as projected financial information and other information are based on estimates and assumptions that are inherently subject to various significant risks, uncertainties and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. AdTheorent and MCAP Acquisition Corporation Announces the Waiver of Key Closing Conditions for Contemplated Business Combination Ahead of Stockholder Vote

CHICAGO (December 9, 2021)— MCAP Acquisition Corporation (“the Company” or “MCAP”), a special purpose acquisition company sponsored by an affiliate of Monroe Capital LLC (“Monroe Capital”), today announced that AdTheorent Holding Company, LLC (“AdTheorent”) and its majority equityholder, an affiliate of H.I.G. Capital LLC, have agreed to waive both the $140 million aggregate cash consideration closing condition and the $258.1 million available cash in trust closing condition contained in the business combination agreement (the “BCA”) in connection with the previously announced proposed business combination between MCAP and AdTheorent (the “Business Combination”). The Business Combination is expected to close promptly after the special meeting of MCAP stockholders to be held on December 21, 2021 (the “Special Meeting”).

“The AdTheorent equityholders believe strongly in the future of AdTheorent and the strength of the proposed business combination. Our balance sheet is already strong as a result of our high free cash flow characteristics and we believe waiving these two closing conditions in advance of the stockholder vote enhances the certainty of the merger closing and ensures that we will have more than sufficient primary proceeds from the transaction to take advantage of the exciting growth opportunities in front of us,” said James Lawson, CEO of AdTheorent. “The existing AdTheorent ownership group will be the largest stockholders following the proposed business combination. This announcement highlights our enthusiasm for AdTheorent’s future and our commitment to successfully completing the combination.”

“We believe today’s announcement provides greater visibility to stockholders of MCAP in our confidence in closing this transaction pending the stockholder vote. We believe it further illustrates the AdTheorent equityholders’ belief in the long term growth potential in the business,” said Zia Uddin, Co-President of MCAP.
